

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The technical disclosure is the process of forming (shaping) an electrical light emitting device into an outline of two cats that form a heart shape with their lower bodies, paws and tails along with adding a secondary heart shape inside of the heart shape formed by the cats to complete visual art that is displayed to the human eye with the light emitting device. ©2004 Mark Court